Bolsheviki Claim to Be Regaining Ground

Bolshevik Wireless Dispatch Says Sarapul Has Been Recaptured From Admiral Kochak's Army.

By the Associated Press
LONDON, June 6. — Bolsheviki have recaptured Sarapul, on the Kama river, southwest of Perm, which was one of the important towns recently taken by Admiral Kolchak's forces in their spring advance, according to a Bolshevik wireless message. The dispatch also reports that the Bolsheviki are continuing to advance in this region.

BURLESON RETURNS THE WIRE SYSTEMS

WASHINGTON, June 5.—Telegraph and telephone companies whose lines have been controlled and operated by the government since last August 1, were ordered tonight to resume immediate operation for their own account by Postmaster General Burleson.

The Postoffice Department, however, under terms of Mr. Burleson's order, retains a measure of control of the service, pending final legislative action by congress.

Regulations prohibiting discrimination against wire employees because of union affiliations, maintaining existing rates and charges and instructing companies to keep special accounts to facilitate cost settlement between themselves and the government, are retained in effect under the order issued by the postmaster general.

Mr. Burleson accompanied the order with a statement giving the reasons which impelled him to take the action. He asserted that the president having recommended the return of the properties, the senate interstate commerce committee having indicated that immediate return was advisable and the house committee having, through hearings, manifested a desire for action to return control to the various private owners.

BILL TO EXTEND FEDERAL PENSIONS TO U. C. V. OFFERED

WASHINGTON, June 6.—A bill to extend existing pension benefits to Confederate veterans or their widows has been introduced by Representative Upshaw (Dem.) of Georgia, who says that leading Republican members of both houses of congress have assured him of their support.

The preamble of the bill sets forth that these veterans "have proven their devotion to the Union in every conceivable way, marching in unflinching loyalty to the Treasury of the nation for more than fifty years and helping to pay the pensions of their victorious brothers and by giving their sons and grandsons on the altar of our country through two victorious wars."

Eighteen high school girls from Oklahoma City and five from Lawton were in the city between trains today on their way to the Devil's Den near Tishomingo. The young ladies were chaperoned by Mrs. W. S. Hanson from the city and by Miss Cora Dilly from Lawton. They go to Tishomingo to attend the week's encampment of the Y. W. C. A. at which there are to be no less than 250 girls from Oklahoma, Texas and New Mexico. The young ladies seemed fully equipped with camping paraphernalia. They thought it strange that the Ada high school was not to be represented. The reporter told them that as far as she knew the Ada school had no branch of the "Y."

90TH DIVISION COMING HOME

TRANSPORTS ARRIVE WITH MORE OF THIRTY-SIXTH AND PART OF NINETIETH DIVISION.

NEW YORK, June 6.—Steamer Pretoria arrived today with 95 officers and 2,812 men of the Thirty-sixth division, 144th infantry minus Company M. The Seventy-second infantry brigade headquarters also arrived. The transport Von Steuben arrived with a machine gun company and detachment Company L of 144th infantry, Thirty-sixth division.

The Madawaska followed the Von Steuben with the 343rd machine gun battalion, headquarters detachment, medical, ordnance and dental detachments and Companies A and B, Ninetieth division, Texas, Arizona, New Mexico and Oklahoma troops.

WILSON STANDS PAT ON TERMS

PRESIDENT INSISTS THAT TREATY DOES NOT CONFLICT WITH HIS FOURTEEN POINTS.

By the Associated Press
PARIS, June 6.—"I am convinced our treaty project violates none of my principles," President Wilson is quoted by the newspaper Matin as saying when he was made acquainted with the German counter-proposals to the treaty. "If I held a contrary opinion I would not hesitate to confess it and would endeavor to correct the error. The treaty as drawn up, however, entirely conforms with my fourteen points."

Important Notice.
A holders of interests in the 40-acre lease and the well drilled thereon by the Oil State Oil Company near Francis are requested to meet at the Oil State Company offices over the Oklahoma State bank at 8 o'clock Saturday evening, June 7th. Action will be taken regarding the present well and the proposed drilling of another well on the same lease.—Charles H. Rives, Trustee. 6-6-2t

GERMANS SENDING OUT COPIES OF PEACE TERMS

By the Associated Press
PARIS, June 6.—It is understood here that the Berlin government is sending photographically reproduced copies of the peace terms to every United States representative and senator in congress.

MORE UNIONS JOIN STRIKE; RETURNED SOLDIERS TO KEEP PEACE AT WINNIPEG.

By the Associated Press
WINNIPEG, June 6.—Strengthening Winnipeg police force by 1,000 army veterans as special constables caused an increase during the night in the number of minor disturbances and personal encounters but no unusual demonstrations occurred. Conciliation efforts have made practically no progress as the general strike enters its fourth week.

In a formal proclamation published this morning, Mayor Gray ordered the stoppage of all parades and forbade the congregating of crowds on the city streets. Several other unions joined the strike at Vancouver yesterday and coastwise shipping is completely tied up.

Around Court House in Three Reels

George Morton, well known in court circles, was arrested by Sheriff Duncan and Policeman Wick Adair yesterday on a charge of unlawful possession. The officers found four gallons of "choc" at his home on West Fifth.

The case against Jennie Isaacs, which was set for hearing in Justice Brown's court, was not tried because of the inability of Thomas to appear in court. The hearing was postponed until next Monday morning at nine o'clock.

The county commissioners met in adjourned session this week. Routine matters were attended to.

Nothing has yet been done by the county to repair the Francis bridge which was partially washed out by high water recently. The county must do the repairing as the contractors have been released from liability. Work on the bridge will be pushed as soon as the water recedes to the point making it possible. The bridge is now in an impossible condition.

Work on the bridge across the Canadian at Byng is also at a standstill because of high water. This bridge will be pushed to completion as quickly as possible.

Heinies Dodging "Flies."

COBLENZ, June 6.—The doughboys of the Army of Occupation are keeping the Heinies busy dodging hot "flies." There are about ten divisions of the A. E. F. in the Rhineland at present. In the First division alone there is a baseball league of 130 teams, which keeps not less than 2,000 to 2,500 men in actual play a number of afternoons each week. There is also a basketball team for each regiment making not less than eight teams for each division, engaging more than 100 men in play daily.

WOODMEN UNVEILING AT CENTER SUNDAY

On Sunday, June 8, at 2:30 p. m., the Center Camp of the Woodmen of the World will hold a decoration and unveiling service in honor of its departed dead. Hons. Luther Harrison and Arden L. Bullock will each address the assemblage. All Woodmen and their families and friends are invited.

M. F. MANVILLE REAPPOINTED TO HIGH MASONIC POSITION

M. F. Manville yesterday received notice of his reappointment as District Deputy Grand Master of this Masonic district, composed of something like two score lodges in this and adjoining counties. He has held this office for the three years past and his reappointment is the result of his having discharged his duties in a manner eminently satisfactory to the lodges under his supervision and to the grand lodge of the state.

MERCHANDISE BY AEROPLANE ROUTE

MAYWOOD, ILL., CONCERN ANNOUNCES WORLD'S FIRST AEROPLANE EXPRESS SERVICE.

Alfred Decker & Cohn, Chicago, New York and Montreal, manufacturers of Society Brand Clothes, are sending out gorgeously arranged circulars and other announcements telling of the establishment at their aviation field at Maywood, Ill., of the world's first aeroplane express service. One of their announcements reads:

"We take pleasure in announcing the dedication of the Society Brand Aeroplanes at our aviation field at Maywood, Ill., Tuesday morning, June third, nineteen hundred nineteen, at eleven o'clock, and the inauguration of the world's first aeroplane express service.

The establishment of this service marks an epoch. It signals the first regular employment of the aeroplane in commercial pursuits.

In adopting this 20th Century means of transportation, the makers of Society Brand Clothes were moved by the conviction that the commercial use of the aeroplane is not only feasible but practical for quick delivery.

The aeroplanes purchased for this service are J-N 4—D2 model biplanes. They are capable of a speed of 75 miles an hour. Ninety-five per cent of the American and Canadian military aviators were trained in this model. Its proven efficiency led to its selection for the Society Brand service.

The planes will be distinguishable at a great height because of their checker-board wings. Military experiment proved that the checker-board marking lent highest visibility.

They were christened "Society Brand I" and "Society Brand II" by Mr. Harry H. Merrick, president of the Chicago Association of Commerce, at a ceremony at "Society Brand Aviation Field" on Tuesday, June 3rd, at 11 a. m.

This field, located at West 12th Street and Des Plaines River, Maywood, extends over 40 acres. On it a large hangar has been constructed as the home for the planes. Lieut. David L. Behncke, lately in charge of testing and inspection of army aeroplanes at Chanute Flying Field, Rantoul, Ill., and holder of Aero Club of America License No. 838 and governmental permit No. 351, has been engaged as pilot. He will be assisted by a staff of trained aeroplane mechanics recently discharged from the army aviation corps.

This is indeed a new innovation and Ada folks may in the future witness the arrival here of one of these planes, as the Model Clothiers of Ada are agents for Society Brand Clothes in this section.

NO SOLUTION IN SIGHT YET

ADRIATIC MATTER STILL BEFORE PEACE CONFERENCE WITH NO AGREEMENT IN SIGHT.

By the Associated Press
PARIS, June 6.—When the council of four met this morning, Premier Orlando was absent. This led to the belief that the much mooted Adriatic question is again under consideration. It is understood no further progress has been made by the various elements working on the solution of this problem.

STRIKE WILL BE FOUGHT TO FINISH

BOTH SIDES OF TELEGRAPHERS' STRIKE CONFIDENT OF FINAL OUTCOME OF STRUGGLE.

By the Associated Press
ATLANTA, Ga., June 6.—Confidence in the outcome of the strike inaugurated by the Commercial Telegraphers' union on the Western Union in ten southeastern states in support of local strikers is expressed by leaders of both sides. H. C. Worthen, general manager of the Southern division of the Western Union, declared the return of wire properties by the Postmaster general "gives our executives a clear hand to fight to a finish." P. G. Conville, chief of the union, intimated, that a nation-wide strike would be ordered if it proved necessary.

Strikers Will Be Eased.

By the Associated Press
NEW YORK, June 6.—Western Union employees who joined the telegraphers' union on assurance of the postmaster general that there would be no discrimination in their regard will not be taken back if they strike, Newcomb Carlton, president of the company, announced today.

GOOD PROGRESS BEING MADE AT E. C. NORMAL

The students and faculty of the normal are down to hard work now and excellent progress is being made in all lines. This morning the enrollment was 852.

When in the city the first of the week Otis Weaver presented the normal with $25 to be applied on the memorial gateway which is to be erected in honor of the normal boys who served in the army and navy.

WEATHER FORECAST.

Generally fair is the way the weather man reads the signs for Saturday.

By the Associated Press
WILKESBARRE, Pa., June 6.—State and local authorities are conducting an investigation today into the explosion yesterday in the tunnel of the Delaware and Hudson Coal Company that cost the lives of eighty-three men and injured fifty others. Early reports that the mine laws were violated by carrying men and explosives on the same train were denied by Seward Button, chief of state bureau of mines. Button said the state mine code contained no regulations on the transportation of explosives.

THE INDIAN GAME OF BALL OR TOLIK

For three hundred years, and perhaps more, the Indians of America have indulged in the game of ball—Tolik, as it is known—the basic features of which have practically remained the same, and in the mutations of time only slight changes have occurred and those changes caused by the passing of the red man from savagery into civilization.

However, slight changes have been made in the game of Tolik in the last hundred years. It is still the amusement of the full bloods, whether Creek, Seminole, Choctaw or Chickasaw, and when played by him represents, as nearly as possible, the exact conditions of a hundred years ago. He glories still in the achievements of his ancestors. The ways of the white man appeal to him only so far as they do no dishonor or disgrace to his Indian blood.

The white man's game of ball is, to him, a very mild and tame amusement. Physical prowess, astuteness, fleetness of foot, endurance and bravery are all combined in Tolik and are his natural propensities. He feels no pleasure in the jibes and jeers of the "rooters" on the "bleachers." Sport to be enjoyable to him must possess the elements of physical endurance and danger.

The changed conditions of the Indians social and communal life have necessarily wrought change in his amusements. He has so perfectly merged into the busy, hustling activities of his environment that, in a large measure, he has come to enjoy the ways and habits of his conqueror. He is no longer the hunter, the warrior or the savage that so many writers picture him—rather, however, a man of quiet ways, splendid personal appearance, domestic tastes, high and honorable ideals of life and government. However, he still feels occasionally the call of the wild, and at such times he enjoys the pastime that his ancestors looked upon as a most complete sport.

Formerly eleven points or more were played—a point representing the touching of the opponents' goal by the ball; today usually six points only are played.

A story is printed in today's Tulsa World concerning Erwin Jeter, who is charged with the killing of a man named McGlothlin, near Sand Springs, on May 9th. Jeter's sister, Miss Lillian Jeter, is also mixed in the case as a witness. It appears that McGlothlin controlled property through which a creek ran in which the Jeters and others bathed. McGlothlin insulted several girls for bathing in the creek. Erwin Jeter took the matter up and in a difficulty which followed McGlothlin was shot to death. At the preliminary trial yesterday Jeter was released on bond signed by all his neighbors. The Jeters, we understand, are former citizens of Ada and have many relatives and friends here now who sympathize with them in their trouble.

MISS LEE'S RECITAL
Another term end recital greatly enjoyed by the large crowd present was that of Miss Lula L. Lee, when she presented her advanced pupils in piano at the Normal last night. The program consisted of solos and duets and those who took part showed by the ease and grace with which they handled the instrument that they had had training of a most artistic character. There were twelve members of Miss Lee's class who took part in the program.

A special feature of the recital was the vocal numbers given by Miss Estelle Tuggle, a friend of Miss Lee, who has been attending the Oklahoma College for women at Chickasha. Miss Tuggle possesses a most charming soprano voice and encore after encore was called for as she finished her numbers.

Wood in Demand.
The unique timber of Turkey and a few other localities—the fine, hard-grained, compact boxwood so much prized for engravings, rules, etc., is now so scarce that the forest products laboratory in Wisconsin is seeking American substitutes. Only the Florida boxwood and the wahoo of Arkansas and other parts of the South approach nearly. Other hardwoods suitable for some of the coarser uses include mistle, torchwood, witch hazel, great rhododendron, mountain laurel, thornapple and yellow buckeye.

BIG WILD WEST SHOW

We will exhibit here Saturday, June 7, under canvas, our Big Wild West Show, carrying with us a string of the best bucking horses that ever visited your city, also those old-time western cowboys who will make you recall those dear old pioneer days. We are here offering a reward to the neighboring cowboys to ride that feature horse known as the "High Roller." Yes, we will give $50 to the man who can bring us a horse, mule or steer we fail to ride without saddle, bridle or hackamore.

Remember this show is clean, high class and refined, for ladies and children as well as the gentlemen. Plenty of elevated seats for everybody. Admission 15 and 25c. Matinee and night.—Mack & Mack. 6-61*

SELF GOVERNMENT IN THE FACTORIES

By the Associated Press
NEW YORK, June 6.—Manufacturers and union labor leaders all over the United States are said to be watching with interest and sympathy the experiment in industrial democracy which is now being conducted in five cities—Fort Wayne, Ind.; Shelton, Conn.; Cleveland, O.; Paterson, N. J., and Brooklyn, N. Y., and which, it is believed by some of them will scotch if it does not prevent Bolshevism in industrial centers where it is put into effect.

The originator of the plan, John Leitch, an efficiency engineer, started it among 300 employees of a Ft. Wayne piano factory. Its basis was the Constitution of the United States. The factory was administered by a Senate, a House of Representatives and a cabinet corresponding to the aids and advisors of the President. Its success is said to have been immediate and permanent. Yale University, the National Council of Defense and the National Association of Manufacturers are said to be a few of the bodies that are investigating the merits of the plan.

B. Edmund David, head of a silk manufacturing corporation in Paterson, N. J., who was instrumental in introducing the system in his factory in that city about a year ago, expressed today the keenest satisfaction at the results attained, and said he hoped, ultimately, to establish similar working conditions in four other of his mills in New York, Reading, Scranton and Beavertown, Pa. The Paterson manufacturer, however, said the new system should not be considered a "panacea" or adaptable to all kinds and sizes of industrial establishments.

Mr. David, "is the ungrudging recognition on the part of the employer, of the worker's right to a voice in the determination of matters which are of vital interest to him which lends the additional dignity to his position on which self government invariably carries with it."

"Industrial democracy or Constitutionalism in industry," he said, "was first explained to the workers. A broad and fundamental set of rules adopted to guide management and workers. The four cornerstones of this business edifice were justice, co-operation, economy and energy. Its capstone was service. This policy, as the supreme law of the establishment, has never failed to suggest a solution when troublesome questions arise."

In proof of the system's practicability Mr. David pointed out that last winter, when almost every other silk mill in Paterson was closed as the result of a strike, the David mill was not affected but maintained full production and was kept in continuous operation as by members of one contented and harmonious family.

Explaining the operation of the plan Mr. David said the Cabinet consists of the executive officers of the company chosen by the directors of the corporation. It has the power of veto and may initiate "legislation" as well as make suggestions to the Senate and House.

Neither the Senate or House are obligated to adopt the Cabinet's recommendations and when they do they have the power to amend them. The Cabinet, therefore, instead of issuing orders, is merely a part of the democratic control of the whole plant.

"The Senate," explained Mr. David, "is composed of the foreman and department heads. It may initiate legislation which, before going to the Cabinet for approval, must be accepted by the House."

"The House is elected by a secret vote of all the workers in the mill, one representative for every twenty workers. The House meets weekly

RE-EDUCATIONAL COURSES POPULAR

IT IS ESTIMATED THAT RE-EDUCATION COURSES WILL INTEREST AT LEAST 15,000 DISABLED MEN.

WASHINGTON, June 6.—It is difficult even yet to reckon the extent of the problem of re-educating the disabled soldier, but from the experience thus far gained the federal board of vocational education is convinced that the American soldier is more interested in the offered retraining than any foreign soldier has been. Perhaps this is due to the liberality of the provisions made in our country. Judging from the experience of our Allies, about five per cent of any given group of wounded men will be given retraining. That would give 10,000 men to be retrained out of the 200,000 wounded, but the board estimates an even larger percentage among American soldiers as it anticipates that there will be 15,000 or even 20,000 men who will ask for re-education and placement.

Both A Barber And A Poet

From the Chicago Herald and Examiner: "Being a barber is the best training in the world for a poet. An intensely interesting study of psychology, it reveals the soul of man."

This is the reason why, if you enter the Morrison Hotel barber shop any evening after 7, you will find, behind the first chair to your left, a little blond man of 35, keen eyed, alert, intelligent, and well groomed—being a barber, as well as a poet, he does not wear his hair long.

"I am a veritable jack of all trades," he said. "I was a structural steel worker before I became a barber. When I turned poet, I took up the tonsorial business."

"I work in the shop here from 7 to 11. The early hours of the morning I spend in wooing the muse. During the day I muck-rake."

"A poet a muckraker?" The reporter was surprised.

"I mean, I engage in sociological investigations. Some times I put on an old suit of ragged clothes and go around to back doors begging handouts. Sometimes I get a job in a factory and study working conditions. But I have never learned so much from anything else as I have from barbering."

"I never start a conversation with the man in the chair. I always wait for him to broach the subject. I then manifest an interest. When he comes in again, I have read up and thought about the subject, so as to be able to discuss it intelligently."

"The result is, about the third or fourth time he sits down in my chair, he opens up, unburdens his soul, and I have, if not his life history, at least a working plan of his psychology. The result is usually a poem. Here is one of the poet-barber's verse creations:

"This is a song for a soldier
To sing as he rides from home
To the fields afar, where the battles are,

Over the ocean's foam,
Whatever the dangers waiting
In the lands I have not seen,
If I do not fall—if I do not come home at all—
I will come home clean.

I may lie in the mud of the trenches,
I may reek with blood and mire,
But I will contol the god of my soul

And the might of any man's desire,
I will fight my foe in the open,
But my sword shall be sharp and keen

For the foe within who would lure me to sin,
And I will come back clean.

Wives of Airmen Suffer in Silence While Husbands Face Death

NEW YORK, June 6.—The circumstances under which our men took part in the European fighting presented a terrible ordeal for American women, who waited at home. A peace-time event brought an equally supreme test. To those whose dear ones were reported "missing from the NC Air Squadron" the most heroic bravery was necessary for many hours.

Mrs. John H. Towers, whose husband commanded the expedition, and Mrs. Holden C. Richardson, whose husband, a naval commander, was chief pilot of the NC-3, which for nearly three days was missing in the fogs, were women whose bravery in the hours of uncertainty was the finest. Mrs. Bellinger, whose husband, Lieutenant Commander "Pat" Bellinger, commanded the wrecked NC-1, was another.

Of the wives of aviators who attempted the trans-Atlantic flight, Mrs. Harry Hawker suffered the most harrowing vigil, although she never lost her confidence that "God would bring my man back to me."

The emotions of these heroic women are worth recording here.

How One Suffered.

It was not until after the news of rescue had come that Mrs. Richardson was willing to admit the dread she had suffered. She said: "When the first reports came that the NC-3 was missing from the squadron I did not dream of giving way to any despairing thoughts. My husband has been in the air service for eight years, and I know something of the dangers of a flier's career."

"My nerves had been tried many, many times before, and if I was unable to pass through this experience without giving way to weakness, I owe it to the lessons gained by past experience."

"So the fact that the plane was missing was at first the cause only of a keen disappointment to think that my husband had not immediately realized his hope of being the first to 'get there.'"

Confident of Her Husband.

"He had told me, too, that fogs made it difficult for a naval plane to locate itself and that if he should be reported missing, at the same time that there were heavy fogs, it was not a matter for alarm, but merely a matter for delay. He told me this many times before he left."

"Then, too, a man who has been flying for eight years without serious accident, especially in these times, seems not destined for any mishap—or so it seems to me."

"And I have the highest confidence in my husband. He is very careful, and I know he must be skilled or the government would not have selected him. All these things I kept repeating in my own mind as the hours passed, with no news, and I kept thinking, 'He can't have an accident now, he can't but be successful now'—and keeping up my own pitch of confidence."

"And so the first day passed, with little Margaret, our daughter, asking from time to time, 'Is daddy all right?' And each time I would summon the most confident smile I could and answer, 'Of course daddy it all right. We will hear from him very soon.'"

"Then came the second day, with the news that the fogs were thickening—even promising heavy rains—and that no further word had been received from the NC3. And the even more ominous reports that the patrol boats scouring the waters about the point where the machine had been last heard from had discovered no sign of the fliers."

"Constant telephone calls from the naval station, where those in charge urged me to be confident, saying that they believed the machine still safe and were sure of having word from it soon, really helped to allay my fears a great deal."

"The confidence of my own little daughter, who went right on with her play, was one of the greatest helps I had. Margaret told me several times, 'Well, daddy told me that he was coming back all safe, so I know he is. He always does what he promises—I don't see what everyone is making such a fuss about.'"

"But when the second night came and the words 'still missing'—still missing' kept buzzing in from all the points of information—then it was hard to keep on being quite sure. And it was then that all the really discouraging thoughts seemed to come to mock me."

"In the darkness, with everything silent, and everyone else sleeping, the telephone terribly quiet, little imps of torture in the shape of my thoughts set all idea of sleep far away. They seemed to be grinning and saying:

"After all your confidence, he's lost, and you know it!"

"Everyone tells you he's probably all right, but you know they're just doing it to be kind."

"Other people, who don't have to consider you, are saying, he's lost, he's lost—only you're too stupid to know it."

"No news is bad news—no news is bad news."

"And so it seemed to keep up. While I did try even to say to myself that all was well, I couldn't help the fears that would creep in. But I did manage to keep saying, 'There will be news by morning.'"

Experiences Real Fear.

"And when morning did dawn, gray and silent, and still there was no news—it was only then that I allowed myself to really fear. Every ring of the telephone was as terrible as it was promising; it seemed to say: 'You this this news from your husband—instead it is only the news that there isn't any news.'"

"And so it proved to be—call after call without word, until my nerves were nearly spent."

"By half past 10 I was just about ready for anything that might come. The visions of men drowned amongst a fallen wreck of machinery, which had come to my vision in the night, became now terrible possibilities. Instead of keeping my courage and my hopefulness up, I rather spent my energy in trying to strengthen myself for the news which I thought was coming."

"So when at 11 o'clock the word did come that the crew of the NC-3 had actually been rescued, and were safe—I could hardly believe the joy of it. It was only then that my composure fully gave way."

"I felt for those first moments after the news came, that I wanted to run into the streets and shout, 'Safe, safe, safe!' so that every one should know of the wonderful news."

"For, after all, the safety and well-being of those she loves means more to every woman than any event of world importance."

"And now, I believe—and I say it without any thought of achievements, but only of experience—now I believe I am ready to face any contingency which my husband's profession may bring to me."

Mrs. J. H. Towers' Story.
Mrs. J. H. Towers, wife of the commander of the NC-3, maintained similar confidence during the time of uncertainty of the safety of her husband. She said:

"I rely absolutely in my husband's courage and abilities. When he starts anything he finishes it. I'm sure when he is found, he will be still in command and making every effort to reach some port. I have the utmost confidence that anything which Commander Towers undertakes will be accomplished successfully."

"Thank God, he's safe!" shouted Mrs. Patrick Bellinger, Washington, when she was informed by the navy department, over the phone, that her husband had been rescued from the wreck of the NC-3. That is all she said.

Mrs. Mary A. Reed, the mother of Commander Albert Reed, in command of NC-4, expressed the deepest thankfulness for the safety of her son, and said:

"I am immensely proud of my boy, and have the fullest belief in his capabilities. I pray that his journey may be finished in safety."

GREAT BRITAIN MAY REGAIN SOUTH AMERICAN TRADE

By the Associated Press

LONDON, May 7.—Belief that Great Britain can have the trade of South America for the asking despite the competition which the United States has built up there during the war, was expressed by Gordon Ross, formerly financial editor of the Buenos Aires Standard, in an address he delivered here recently. Mr. Ross is quoted as saying that there is in some South American republics a jealous fear of the extension of the influence of the United States and he repeated the statement that it had been cynically said in South America that the Monroe Doctrine meant not so much "America for the Americans" as "America for North Americans."

Mr. Ross told his hearers that British neglect of advertising in South America had an important effect upon their trade; that it was important that catalogues should be published in the language of the people and that prices should be quoted in the currency of the country.

Optimistic Thought.

A man, said Talmage, never looks more dignified than when he takes a spectacle case from his pocket, opens it, unfolds a lens, sets it astride his nose and looks you in the eye.

Real Moral Courage.

When you are so devoted to doing what is right that you press straight on to that and disregard what men are saying about you, there is the triumph of moral courage.—Phillips Brooks

MARRIAGES GREATLY OUTNUMBER DIVORCES

The court records show that the number of people who tire of the nuptial knot and ask that it be untied is enormous.

An examination of the books in the clerk's office today gave the figures at 61 for divorces and 167 for the weddings. This makes a majority of 106 for those marrying, or nearly three to one. These figures are for the first five months of this year.

The number of divorce proceedings filed for this year by the month are as follows: January 9; February 13; March 12; April 12; May 15.

White Shelled Egg Producers.

Poultry of the Mediterranean or egg breeds are best suited for the production of the white shelled eggs. Representatives of this class are bred largely for the production of eggs rather than for meat production. Among the popular breeds of this class are: Leghorn, Minorca, Ancona and Andalusian. One of the outstanding characteristics of the egg breeds is the fact that they are classed as non-setters. That is, as a rule they do not become broody and hatch their eggs. When fowls of this class are kept, artificial incubation and brooding are usually employed.

It is rather curious, when you come to think of it, that congress finds it necessary to protect the poor from a "luxury tax."

A man does not object so much to being taxed or even robbed if it can be accomplished without his being aware of it. Hence, when the Republicans bring in a tariff bill raising the rates all along the line, many who are paying some stiff direct taxes will welcome the change because the tariff collects the tax indirectly and the tax payer does not know that he is paying it.

The Peace Conference at Paris has evidence enough to convict twenty German U-boat commanders of murder. Nearly 4,000 merchant ships were destroyed and over 17,000 sailors lost their lives. No heartless pirates of past centuries were guilty of greater or more heartless cruelty. The Kaiser, now peacefully reposing in a beautiful villa in Holland, and von Tirpitz, resting in Switzerland, ought to be included among the criminals.

The United States is confronted with a situation seldom found in history. It is how to keep the other fellows in a position to buy American goods and products. Since the war began there has been a heavy and constantly increasing balance of trade in favor of this country until the buying nations are in a fair way to owe the United States an enormous sum. For the first ten months of the current fiscal year the exports exceeded imports by three and one-half billion dollars. At that rate the United States will soon have all the money of the world corralled and trade will just naturally stop of itself. Times have changed since a big slice of good American money went to Europe every year in payment of debts due the foreigners.

THE BOY SCOUTS.

In view of the coming celebration of Boy Scout week, June 8 to 14, it is interesting to get this sidelight on boy scout training from an American army chaplain. He says:

"I find in my work overseas that many of our boys who are making the cleanest kind of a fight have had Boy Scout training."

Here is a bit of practical evidence of the value of starting a boy in the way he should go.

The Boy Scout movement is undoubtedly the finest thing which has been undertaken on a big scale for the young boys of the world. No boy can be truly interested in it and not be better off. The only danger is that, as with all social organizations, there is the possibility that its scope may not be sufficiently broad to include boys of all sorts and conditions.

The celebration of Boy Scout week should arouse the interest of everyone who has the welfare of the country at heart. For America will be what American boys become. It should be a matter of pride and satisfaction in every community to support the movement and to help in bringing into it all boys of eligible age.

A MODERN CATALINE.

On the day the Sixty-sixth congress convened in extraordinary session, the house of representatives adopted a resolution providing that the speaker shall appoint a committee of nine members to consider the question of the prima facie right of Victor Berger, the Socialist congressman, to be sworn in, as well as his final right to a seat.

Berger has been convicted and sentenced by the federal court for violations of the espionage act. He is at large under bail pending an appeal.

Cataline sought to take his seat in the Roman senate while plotting the murder of senators and the destruction of Rome. Cataline, however, was only charged with treason. He had not been tried and convicted. Berger has been convicted by a jury of his peers of an attempt to aid the enemies of his country to destroy the liberties of the American people and the lives of American soldiers.

Notwithstanding his established guilt, Berger appeared before the bar of the house to take the oath to "protect and defend the Constitution against all enemies, foreign and domestic." Berger came, not as a penitent, in sack-cloth and ashes, confessing the error of his ways, but as the blatant and avowed advocate of a system incompatible with the Constitution of the United States, demanding the right to perjure and forswear himself. God save the Constitution of the United States from dependence upon the fealty of the Bergers!

The house is the exclusive judge of its own membership. It can either refuse to admit anyone to its membership, or it can expel a member without liability to account for its action elsewhere.

To exclude from its membership anyone presenting a certificate of election and prima facie right to be admitted requires only a majority vote of the house. To expel a member, however, requires a two-thirds vote. It is for the house to choose which method of procedure shall be adopted. The overwhelming sentiment against Berger in the house, however, renders it of little practical importance which plan is pursued. The resolution to investigate the case was passed unanimously.

The modern Cataline must go to join the Lenines and Trotskys in open warfare on civilization.—Okmulgee Democrat.

TEACHING AMERICANISM.

The way to settle the alien problem is for more first-class Americans to devote themselves to Americanization work and the teaching of English, according to a writer in a recent number of the Saturday Evening Post.

The stolid, uncouth side which is all that the average American sees of his foreign neighbor comes from his inability to express himself in our language or to make himself understood in his own. His bitterness and readiness to turn against the government or his employers comes too often from the roughness of the treatment he receives. He learns curses and slang because that is what he hears, not because it is what he wants to know. No one even tries to learn his name correctly. He is mis-called in the street gang and numbered in the factory. It is no wonder that what he sees of America leaves him cold and sullen.

Given instructors who are patient, interested and courteous, and who typify the best Americanism, all that is changed. The foreigner shows himself courteous, eager, quick to assimilate; glad to embrace the ways and the laws made clear to him.

Moreover, says one successful teacher, no one can work at Americanization very long and not discover that he is his own best pupil. His enthusiasm for America and all that it represents grows as he presents it to his pupils. His understanding of it broadens as he studies how best to make it clear to them, and he finds himself unconsciously trying to live it better so that he may not fail those who look to him.

Perhaps it is true that the reason the alien has stayed alien is, after all, because the real America which he has come to seek has been too selfish and too busy to reveal itself to him.

Help Returned Soldiers.

Muskogee Times-Democrat: It would appear that the time has passed when a farmer could get into the producing class with a net capital of nine children and $200.

A returned soldier, who started out with $1,500 and an agricultural ambition, has been telling us a few of his troubles.

"I only wanted to farm a small rented place, so I started out to buy a heavy young horse.

"After dickering around for ten days I found what I wanted; a great big fine mare, with colt by her side, and as a special concession the patriotic son of a gun would sell her to me for $275, cash."

The would-be farmer will find a few cheap horses these days, but they are dear at any price; a young, sound heavy horse costs more than a team, wagon and harness did a few days ago.

"Then I started out to acquire a cow. I thought I might have to go as high as $90 for a five-gallon tested animal. I found nothing I would have for less than $125, and a really good cow was priced at $50 more; and plenty of buyers, too."

No wonder milk is 15 cents a quart.

"Then I thought maybe I would like a few pigs," the would-be tiller told us; "and I found that an ordinary brood sow, bred, was worth what I had figured on paying for a cow, and that five weeks' old pigs of no special pedigree, were going at $8 each."

"A common sheep costs around $25, and they wanted $3 for a setting hen, and from $1.50 up for a setting of eggs."

"A walking plow that was $5 is $14, a harrow cost as much as a mowing machine did, a mowing machine as much as a binder, and a binder as much, almost, as a threshing machine once did."

"After figuring it all out I decided to go back to my old job. My little old $1,500 wouldn't let me sit in this farm game long enough to buy more than three white chips for the first ante."

And there goes another potential producer back to the ranks of worried consumers.

Eufaula Journal: That drop in prices that we have heard so much about has not manifested itself ostentatiously, that I could notice. You can still get thirty or forty cents worth of anything for a dollar.

Pershing's Tribute to Dead.

"Farewell, dear comrades. Here under the clear skies on the green hillside and amid the flowering Americans who fell in the fighting are buried.

Muskogee Times Democrat: Walter Ferguson, former editor of the Cherokee Messenger and at one time a member of the state senate, is being mentioned as a republican candidate for the nomination for United States senator. Judge W. B. Johnson of Ardmore and Jim Harris of Wagoner, former republican national committeeman, are also mentioned in the same connection.

GRENADES NOW USED AS SAVINGS BANKS

KANAS CITY, Mo., June 6.—"Pineapple Grenades" which the armistice junked as ineffective weapons for trench warfare, are to have a peace-time service as savings banks for the War Savings Stamp campaigns among school children, according to John T. Wayland, director of the government savings organization for the Tenth Federal Reserve District. One hundred thousand of these banks are to be available for this district, Mr. Wayland says.

High explosives will be replaced by dimes and pennies, but the erstwhile weapon, while having its "fangs" extracted, will retain its war-time appearance.

The banks will be awarded to school children by the government, the officials say, who earn and save enough pennies to buy a stipulated amount of War Savings Stamps. Each child under ten years at the end of his vacation, may have one of the war relic banks by showing a $5 stamp to his teacher together with a letter as to how the money was earned. The amount for each child ten years old or over, under the same conditions, will be a stamp with a face value of $16.

LESSON FOR JUNE 8

Obedience.

LESSON TEXTS—Gen. 12:1-4; John 14:
21-24; Matt. 7:16-23.
GOLDEN TEXT—Ye are my friends, if ye do whatsoever I command you.—John 15:14.

ADDITIONAL MATERIAL—Deut. 4:1-10; 1 Sam. 15:22, 23; Matt. 5:19; Acts 5:19, 20; 1 John 3:16-24.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Showing Our Love
to God by Obedience.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Abraham's Obedience and Its Rewards.

INTERMEDIATE TOPIC—When to Obey and How.

SENIOR AND ADULT TOPIC—Obedience a Test of Discipleship.

I. A Notable Example of Obedience (Gen. 12:1-4).

At the command of God Abraham went out not knowing whither he went (Heb. 11:8). His was not the obedience of convenience or prudence.
To separate from home and kindred and take up the life of a pilgrim was not easy. Abraham did not stop to ask why, or what he would get out of it. The obedience that asks why is not obedience at all.

II. The Motive of Obedience (John 14:21-24).

The grand incentive of obedience is love to God. The obedience that is the result of fear or the hope of reward is not true obedience, therefore has not the approval of God. Only the child who reverences his father and affectionately strives to obey him enjoys his loving favor. The obedience which springs out of a heart of love issues in a life of joy and friendship with God (John 15:10-14).

III. The Solemn Obligation of Obedi- ence (Matt. 7:16-29).

1. Warnings against false prophets
(vv. 15-20).

(1) Their real existence. Ever since God has had a people false prophets and teachers have appeared among them. This need not surprise us, for Christ predicted that such should be the case.

(2) Their nature (v. 15). (a) Hypocritical. The devil does his most successful work by masquerading as an angel of light (II Cor. 7:14, 15). His ministers appear in this way and turn people from the narrow to the broad way. (b) This is suggested by their being "ravening wolves." It is when the wolf is in sheep's clothing that he does his most destructive work. The enemies of Christ posing as his ministers are most destructive.

(3) The unfailing test (vv. 16-18).
Their fruits. If one gives sufficient time for development the fruit can be discerned. Every tree bears its own kind of fruit. Nature is inexorable in her law as to this. You may search the universe in vain for an exception.
It is equally true in the spiritual world. There is a vital connection between the faith of a heart and the fruit of a life. That which comes out in the conduct was first in the heart.
A right heart is essential to right conduct. Give the false teachers sufficient time and observe closely and you will find that their lives will prove the teaching.

(4) Their end (v. 19). All false teachers shall finally be punished by being cast into the fire. Although God bears long he will see to it that this wickedness does not go on forever.

2. The dangers of empty profession
(vv. 21-23).

Calling Christ "Lord" will not answer for disobedience to his will. One may even be a Sunday school teacher or preacher, and even perform many mighty works, as casting out devils and healing the sick and yet hear the awful declaration of Jesus Christ, "I never knew you," "depart from me."

3. The one and only safe way (vv.
24-29).

(1) Hear the sayings of Christ. To do this, one must prayerfully attend to reading the Word of God and meditate upon the same.

(2) Do what Christ commands.
Hearing and doing the teachings of Christ is building upon solid rock.
Such building can never be destroyed by flood and storm. Hearing and not doing Christ's sayings is building upon the sand which in time of the storm of God's wrath and judgment will be utterly destroyed. Obedience must follow hearing Christ.

The Need of God.

People are asking in these days of upheaval and chaos, "What is wrong with the world?" It needs God; it needs the religion of Jesus Christ and it needs that religion practically embodied in the lives of men. We see it in the lives of these men of the gospel. We need men like that multiplied many-fold in every church. We need men like that multiplied ten thousandfold in our land.

Rejoice!

O God, animate us to cheerfulness!
May we have a joyful sense of our blessings, learn to look on the bright circumstances of our lot, and maintain a perpetual contentedness.—
Channing.

Every Want Supplied.

Precious to us, O Lord, is the death of thy saints, which makes us heirs of so great a wealth: which leaves us furnished with so great variety of examples, that every want is abundantly supplied.—John Austin.

more or less since Mr. Cullins was a handsome lad as this picture represents him as being, he no longer wears the stick through his nose, which would prevent the casual observer from recognizing the photograph as being a fac simile of Mr. Cullins.

Violet Highly Prized.

The violet was the national flower of the Athenians, and the men of Athens were frequently addressed by their orators as "Athenians crowned in violets." The Romans believed the flower had medicinal qualities, and they advised a garland of violets about the forehead would cure headache or dizziness.

Some Story.

Said the mournful man, "Someday, somebody, somewhere, somehow will get an inspiration and in the fervor of the hour will write a chunk of fiction that doesn't contain the word ordid, doesn't refer to the flotsam and jetsam of life and excludes all persons with hectic flushes."

The Word "Magnet."

The word "magnet" is derived from the name of the city of Magnesia, in Asia Minor, where the properties of the loadstone are said to have been discovered.

DR. GORDON RETURNS FROM WAXAHACHIE

Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Gordon returned Thursday afternoon from Waxahachie, Texas, where they attended the semi-centennial of which Mr. Gordon is an alumnus and for thirteen years a member of the faculty. In recognition of his services and of his ability as an educator, the university conferred on him the degree of LL. D.
Dr. Gordon states that the university closes the fiftieth year of its existence in flourishing condition. A well organized campaign will soon be launched to raise an endowment fund of $2,000,000 for the school and the outlook for success is bright.

During the half-century of its life Trinity University has graduated 502 students. Of this number 115 entered the ministry, 25 became lawyers, 12 doctors and 175 teachers. Altogether the school has had 6,509 students.

How Busy Man Saves Time.

The busy business man no longer need linger over such platitudes as "yours of the 5th at hand," and "we are glad to be of service to you in the matter." Instead he has his favorite phrases numbered and filed in a small desk catalogue, and dictates his letters largely by talking numbers to his stenographer.

This Dog Small Boy's Friend.

A pupil in one of the Rumford (Me.)
grade schools failed to come to school and when the truant officer called to learn the reason, he was told that the dog had run off with the small boy's knickerbocker's, which had been put in their usual place the night before, and which could not be located until time to attend the afternoon session.

Benefactor of Men.

The New York Sun's appreciation of the late Dr. Mary Walker contains this tribute: "One debt of gratitude men owe Doctor Walker which they ought not to forget. She was the inventor of the inside neckband on shirts which protects the flesh from being rubbed by the collar button."—Outlook.

Status of the Shoes.

Kathleen and her mamma had just returned from a shopping trip bringing some pair of shoes for Kathleen, but only on approval. Upon arriving home Doris, Kathleen's older sister, out of curiosity immediately started to open the package. Kathleen indignantly said, "Doris, you just leave those shoes alone; mamma only brought them some on a furlough."

From Apricot Pits.

California produces yearly about 7,000 tons of apricot pits, and home chemists now obtain $200 of materials from each ton. The price of the pits, formerly sold in central Europe at 745 a ton, was reduced two-thirds by the war. The products include a fruit oil substitute for olive oil, the essential oil of apricot (known also as bitter oil of almonds), a cooking meal and a cleansing meal, and American (formerly Prussian) blue.

Egyptian Saw.

The saw appears to be the earliest tool in Egyptian history. It was found first in the form of a notched bronze knife, 5,000 years before the Christian era. There are no dated specimens until the seventh century before the Christian era, when the Assyrians used iron saws.

"ALMOST PUT ME OUT OF BUSINESS,"

NASHVILLE MAN SO WEAK
HE COULD HARDLY GET AROUND—TANLAC SOON RE-STORES HEALTH.

"I know from my own experience that Tanlac deserves all the praise people are giving it," said L. A. Gupton, a well-known business man living at 135 Seventh avenue, North Nashville, Tenn.

"After returning from a trip West with my wife, I had a bad case of grippe which left me in the worst fix I ever was in. I lost about 25 pounds and got so weak that I could hardly get around. My stomach would not retain the food I ate and I went steadily down hill. I had always been healthy and stout, and this weakened condition almost put me out of business.

"This Tanlac has certainly restored my health. I began taking it on the advice of friends who knew my condition and I started gaining back my weight right away. I now feel as good and strong as I ever felt in my life and every sign of the grippe is gone. I am building up every day and getting stronger and heavier. It is nothing but right that I should recommend Tanlac, for it has put me in splendid condition."

Tanlac is sold in Ada by Gwin & Mays Drug Co.

EX-GOVERNOR GUY WAS CONFEDERATE VETERAN

SULPHUR, Okla., June 6.—Ex-Governor William Guy of the Chickasaw nation died at his home in Sulphur Tuesday morning of heart failure. He arose early in the morning feeling fine, and while building a fire fell over and expired immediately.

Governor Guy was one of the interesting pioneers of the Indian territory days and a hero of the Civil war. He was born near the old Boggy depot in the Chickasaw nation, in 1845. At the outbreak of the Civil war in 1861, he was a young lad attending school at Holly Springs, Miss., and immediately joined the Confederate forces, enlisting in Company F, 17th Mississippi—Barksdale brigade, Longstreet's division, army of Northern Virginia. At the battle of Gettysburg he was shot through and through. Fifty-five years ago Tuesday, the date of his death, he was in the trenches at Cold Harbor fighting Grant. For four days he fought there, during which time Grant lost 10,000 men without a foot advantage.

After the Civil war Mr. Guy was elected governor of the Chickasaw nation and served during notable days. He always has been active in tribal and government affairs. He could have been rich, but died a poor man, from the sole fact that he has reared, fathered and educated more orphan children from his own private purse than perhaps any other man in Oklahoma. He is survived by his widow and one daughter, Mrs. Push Cheadle of Ardmore. Mrs. Guy was a member of one of the most prominent families of the territorial days.

AMERICA MUST HOLD TO NEW ARMY IDEALS

By EDMUND F. HACKETT,
(Former Captain U. S. A.)

"Before the war the average man on the street looked on the enlisted man in the army as a man who couldn't do anything else. That is a heritage in the public mind; but I can conceive very easily of the next army being on such a basis that I would simply be delighted to have my boy serve a year in it. If I knew that as a result of that year he was first of all going to get that physical hardening which is, after all, the basis of big success in business, if I knew he was going to come out with a new sense of discipline, with the habit formed of doing the thing he was told to do without argument or explanation—that would be a tremendous asset and I would be ever so glad to have him get it."

Bruce Barton, editor and writer and chairman of the publicity committee of the United War Work campaign, was the speaker, and he was addressing a room full of army officers at the New York Advertising club. It was before the campaign for recruits for the new peace army began and the officers present—about three score in number, ranging in rank from major to brigadier-general—had been ordered to New York from all over the country to attend a series of talks of which the assertion quoted above, in a certain sense, was to prove the keynote.

They were a Little Skeptical. They had come, not knowing what it was "all about," but suspecting that they were to be told how to recruit by certain alleged experts, and rather amused at the thought if not politely skeptical. And during the very first morning, from the lips of men whose vocation in life it is to analyze public opinion keenly at all times, they had been told not how to recruit, but what they would have to do before they could hope to have public sentiment with them, in their recruiting efforts.

Emphasizing Mr. Barton's assertions, Julian Street, the writer, declared it essential that they first "get the new peace army in such shape that men, more or less like me, will want their boys in it. To do that you must keep up in the peace army, the standards that have been established by the army in Europe; and to get in time of peace, men of the type that made that army famous, you have got to give them something. You cannot make the army simply a place where they will get a roof over their heads and three meals a day.

Wrong Idea of Things.
My impression of the old peace army was that a great many men went into it because they really could not do anything else—men who, perhaps, were not, in many instances, of sufficient resource to go up against the battles of life and who needed to be taken care of and controlled; I do not mean to imply that I think the army was composed entirely of such men, but I do feel there was a strong percentage of men in the army with whom I would not have wanted any boy to associate at the impressionable age of 17 or 18. The impression may have been an exaggerated one—I may have taken the abnormal phase of army life for the normal phase, the exceptional for the rule—but I think that the misconception, if it was one, was popular misconception and that before recruits for the new army can be in type and caliber the men the army so earnestly desires that misconception must be changed."

And Dr. Edward J. Weeler, editor of Current Opinion, drove the point still deeper in the minds of his audience when he declared:

"There is a certain feeling that the army, in peace, lacks certain vital functions, that it is simply beating time and waiting for a war to come along, and that it is not a career particularly attractive to the right kind of man. I know it isn't true, but it seems to me that if the army can develop its program in time of peace it is going to be a splendid thing for the country as well as the army. One thought that ought to be emphasized is the educational and vocational possibilities of the army."

WHY MAYOR FAILED TO GET AN IMPORTANT MISSIVE

By the Associated Press

PITTSBURGH, June 6.—That a letter, addressed to the Mayor of Pittsburgh, was returned to the sender marked "unknown" by local postal authorities, was brought to light recently when Mayor E. V. Babcock received a communication from the Mayor of Nancy, France, after it had been delayed eight months.

The letter, under date of October 8, 1918, was received in Pittsburgh a few weeks later, but the postal clerk who handled the communication, stamped on the envelope the intelligence that "Monsieur Le Maire, de la Ville de Pittsburgh, Etats Unis de l'Amerique" could not be located in the directory. The letter was advertised, and finally returned to the Nancy executive, who appealed to the American embassy in Paris. He explained that he was exceedingly anxious that the people of Pittsburgh read the words of appreciation of the folk of Nancy for two flags presented to them in connection with the Bastille Day celebration here July 14 last.

Paris embassy officials enclosed the letter in another envelope, re-addressed it, and Mayor Babcock received the communication only a few days ago.

OFFICERS TAKE TRAVEL OPPORTUNITY

LONDON, May 4. (Correspondence of The Associated Press.)—Two thousand young American military officers who have been detached from their commands in order that they may attend lectures in the leading universities of the British Isles, are broadening their knowledge by seeing some of the countless points of interest with which the country abounds.

London is their favorite "hunting" ground. Westminster Abbey, St. Paul's Cathedral, the House of Parliament, the Tower and Buckingham Palace early claimed their attention. They then turned to the haunts of Dickens, Johnson and others whom they looked upon as old friends.

Now that spring has come they are extending their search to the London suburbs and to other parts of the country.

Yesterday numbers of the student officers sought such places as Hampton Court and Kew Gardens, famous the world over for their varied and beautiful foliage. Many of them are engineers, and with a thrifty thought for the future slung their cameras over their shoulders and prepared to preserve for future reference such bits of landscape gardening as caught their individual fancies. But in this they were disappointed, for the ancient but polite guardian at Kew gate temporarily collected the cameras and told them Sunday photography was forbidden in Kew.

Journeys into Scotland and Ireland interested many of the men and they returned to London as a rule, pleased with the people and with their treatment. The start is usually made from the busy Euston station Saturday afternoon, and Tuesday night usually finds them back in the city ready for work.

A dozen or more of them spent a recent Sunday at Killarney and, desiring to go through the Gap of Dun Low, arranged with their landlord for donkeys at $1.25 each for the journey of six "Irish" miles. When they reached the Gap they were hailed with delight by the donkey boys, who, seeing they were Americans and believing Americans carried nothing but gold pieces in their purses, put up the price of donkeys to $5. The officers, after a vain parley, walked through the Gap.

Manchester, Birmingham, Leeds and Liverpool, with their great manufacturing and shipping interests, also claim attention, particularly from officers who are studying industrial and commercial questions, while the fishing industry of the North Sea ports is attracting others. In this last, however, they admit the trips are much more for pleasure than they are for profit.

The lectures will continue through June, and by that time, some of the more industrious travelers predict, they will know a good deal about Great Britain and that, they explain, is why they were sent here.

Telephone Tattle.
Thieves and beggars have a "cant" language of their own. When a burglar uses the phrase, "struck by lightning," he means that he was arrested by the police whilst engaged on his little job, through information conveyed through the telephone.

EGYPTIANS INSIST ON INDEPENDENCE

PARIS, May 5. (Correspondence of The Associated Press.)—A statement concerning the present disorders in Egypt, explaining the situation from the viewpoint of the agitators, has been given to The Associated Press by Mohamed Mahmoud Pasha, a member of an Egyptian delegation of twenty which is here to ask the Peace Conference to recognize the independence of Egypt. Mohamed Mahmoud Pasha was at one time governor of the Suez Canal and later governor of the province of Behera. He with three other leaders of his party were deported recently to Malta but were released after a month and came on to Paris. His statement follows.

"The political status of Egypt underwent a great change, owing to the war. International relations between Egypt and other countries must be rearranged, and the British protectorate which was proclaimed at the beginning of the war and which has never been accepted by the Egyptian people, was a war measure and cannot stand after the termination of the war.

"All these questions which emanated from the war can be settled by the Peace Conference only, and a proper settlement necessitates the hearing of Egypt's voice therein. For these reasons the Egyptian delegation was empowered by means of mandates from all classes of the Egyptian people to come to Paris, plead the cause of their country before the Peace Conference, and request therefrom the recognition of the independence of Egypt.

"But the delegation was prevented by the British authorities from leaving for Europe, and the Egyptian ministry which was in complete solidarity with the people, resigned early in March last. No Egyptian was found to form a ministry, and for this bankruptcy of British administration in Egypt, the delegation was held responsible.

"The chairman, Saad Zagloul Pasha, former minister of education and later of justice, and now vice-president of the Egyptian legislative assembly; Ismail Sidkey Pasha, former minister of religious endowments; Hamed El Basil Pasha, one of the leading Bedouin chiefs and a member of the legislative assembly; and myself were arrested on March 8 and deported to Malta without any charge or inquiry.

"The Egyptian people almost to a man demanded our immediate release and the immediate departure of the delegation for Europe. Their indignation reached a very high pitch when they saw in this violation of individual liberty an attempt at depriving Egypt from enjoying the liberal principles of President Wilson, and they also saw that all the enormous sacrifices which, in the language of General Allenby, were to a very large extent responsible for the decisive victory over the Turks were in vain.

"Representative Egyptians from Alexandria to Assuan lodged a stern protest against such a treatment. Young men and the students made peaceful demonstrations, but the British troops opened fire at them. Yet the demonstrations continued and the fire of machine guns and rifles continued also. A very large number were killed in Cairo and the provincial cities.

"This revolution is a national movement against a foreign domination, which is abhorred by the entire Egyptian population. Mohammedans and the Christians are in absolute accord. The Egyptian movement is neither religious nor anti-foreign, nor instigated by Germany or Turkey. It is a deep rooted desire on the part of all the inhabitants of the valley of the Nile for the attainment of the independence of their country."

Feeding Young Chicks.

For the first three days chicks may be fed a mixture of equal parts of hard-boiled eggs and rolled oats or stale bread, or stale bread soaked in milk. When bread and milk are used, care should be taken to squeeze all the milk out of the bread. From the third or fourth day commercial chick feed may be fed until the chicks are old enough to eat wheat screenings or cracked corn.

VACATION MONEY

Think of it — $5 for 50 words — $5 in Gold! And so easy for any boy — any girl!

This is All You Have to Do

Ask your mother why she thinks Calumet Baking Powder is the best Baking Powder she ever used. Mother knows why Calumet is better — if she has ever used it — and she can tell you. Then when she tells you, just write in 50 words or less the reason — "Why mother likes Calumet best." Sign your name and address, and mail to us. That's all.

The boy or girl who sends in the best answer — in 50 or less words — why mother likes Calumet best, will receive a $5 Cash Prize.

The Only "Rules" Are These

Only boys and girls in or "under" the 8th grade in any school are allowed to enter the contest. Your answer must not have more than 50 words.

Contest closes June 16th. Your answer must be in our office on or before that date.

WOUNDS AND BRUISES; SHE ASKS FOR DIVORCE

Mrs. Myrtle Taylor, who before her marriage was Myrtle Stephens, has instituted proceedings for divorce against her husband, Lon Taylor, in district court. The case has not yet been heard.

It is set out by Mrs. Taylor that she and defendant were married in August, 1918. The petition states that practically ever since they were married Taylor has acted in a quarrelsome, abusive manner; on May 12th, he struck plaintiff, inflicting upon her face wound, bruise and cut, and that he is guilty of such gross neglect of duty and extreme cruelty toward plaintiff that she is no longer able to live with him as his wife. Mrs. Taylor seeks alimony in the sum of $1,000 and court costs. Taylor is an Indian.

Mrs. Taylor is represented in her action by the law firm of Winbush & Duncan.

THE CHEERFUL CHERUB

I try to imagine my menial work Is really my idea of fun And I might as well like it as not for of course I know that it's got to be done.

Barbed wire cuts, ragged wounds, collar and harness galls heal up quickly when BALLARD'S SNOW LINTMENT is applied. It is both healing and antiseptic. Price 25c, 50c and $1.00 per bottle. Sold by Bart Smith. (Adv.)

LIONS CLUB NOTES.

"A live dog is better than a dead lion," says the chairman of the Ada club on the face of the program for the luncheon tonight at the Harris. We agree.

The club of Oklahoma City is planning a 30-day encampment for the poor children of the city some time this summer. The necessary amount of money to conduct the encampment was raised at one meeting. Verily the Oklahoma City Lions are live wires.

The Wewoka Lions gave a barbecue last Sunday to the convicts now working on the state highway in that county. A Lion is a humane animal after all, if those at Wewoka are to be taken as examples.

Following facts about the Lions Club movement were learned by the writer at the state meeting at Muskogee May 28: There are more Lions Clubs in Oklahoma than Rotary Clubs, which is a good recommendation at that; Oklahoma was the first state to call and hold a state convention, but other states have already indicated their intention of calling a state convention of clubs.

Muskogee will always have the respect and admiration of every Lion who attended the first state convention. It is a real town and her Lions know how to entertain visitors. Okmulgee secured the state convention for next year, but she will have to go some to do herself as proudly as did old Muskogee.

Tams Bixby of Muskogee will go down in the history of Oklahoma Liondom as the greatest toastmaster and entertainer this state has yet produced.

The Boy Scout movement and the Salvation Army movement are two great enterprises to which the Lions over the country are giving a great deal of attention. They are both deserving and the Ada Club could not do better than help foster them.

SURGEONS agree that in cases of Cuts, Burns, Bruises and Wounds, the FIRST TREATMENT is most important. When an EFFICIENT antiseptic is applied promptly, there is no danger of infection and the wound begins to heal at once. For use on man or beast, BOROZONE is the IDEAL ANTISEPTIC and HEALING AGENT. Buy it now and be ready for an emergency. Price 25c, 50c, $1.00 and $1.50. Sold by Bart Smith. (Adv.)

FRIENDS AND PATRONS:

The statements I have made show you that some of my troubles result from the demand of ice delivery in such small quantities, that the price we get does not pay for the service—you want your ice delivered by noon, which means that we must have enough delivery outfits to cover the entire city in the forenoon, thus doubling the quantity that would be needed if the deliveries were distributed throughout the day, and doubling the cost of service.

The Government Food Administration, after investigating these matters, recommended the elimination of number of wasteful methods in order to avoid the necessity of increasing the price of ice, especially to working people and small consumers. These recommendations will work to your benefit, and among them are these:

That ice be distributed upon coupons to all customers as nearly as possible. That a large part of the small sales be made from local ice boxes, or at the wagon instead of attempting delivery into houses.

These rules enable them to maintain service, and give good values, and benefits the customer, and are based upon years of experience of the people in the industry.

Also, special deliveries to residences which cost always more than the amount realized from the sale are entirely discontinued except in case of sickness.

This is the help we ask of you now: namely, BUY COUPONS, and for minimum quantities of 25 pounds—as much more as you can afford.

RILEY-CUNNINGHAM

At no time does Justice H. J. Brown wear so broad a smile as when he is called upon to perform a wedding ceremony. Therefore it wasn't necessary for him to say to the reporter, "follow me," when the judge put on that smile in the court house hall this morning.

The judge went into the court clerk's office where he found in waiting Mr. E. W. Riley of Boonville, Ark., and Miss Ray Cunningham of Mill Creek. In a few sentences the judge spoke the words that made them man and wife. As is usual in such cases the performance was witnessed by several of the court house clerks.

Mr. Riley is a prominent young business man of Boonville. His bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Cunningham of Mill Creek, and is one of the attractive and popular young ladies of that town. The happy couple left on the northbound Frisco for Boonville, where they will make their home.
